

Marshall Blamed In Pearl Harbor Attack

Charge 'Entirely Unjustified', Truman Asserts; Kimmel, Stark, Short Named

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, was held partly responsible for the Pearl Harbor disaster by an army board of inquiry, but President Truman, in releasing the report today, said the criticism is "entirely unjustified."

The President, who called a special news conference to release the long-awaited army and navy reports on the events leading up to Dec. 7, 1941, said he sides with Secretary of War Stimson in rejecting the findings as to Gen. Marshall.

The bulky three-volume reports were sharply critical of Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, Adm. Harold R. Stark and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short.

Mr. Truman told reporters that if court-martial proceedings were indicated, prompt and fair trials will be held.

Gen. Marshall, the army report said, "failed in his relations with the Hawaiian department in the following particulars:

"(A) To keep the commanding general of the Hawaiian department fully advised of the growing tenseness of the Japanese situation, which indicated an increasing necessity for better preparation for war, of which information he had an abundance and Gen. Short had little.

"(B) To send additional instructions to the commanding general of the Hawaiian department Nov. 28, 1941, when evidently he failed to realize the import of Gen. Short's reply of Nov. 27, which indicated clearly that Gen. Short had misunderstood and misconstrued the message of Nov. 17 and had not adequately alerted his command for war.

"(C) To get to Gen. Short on the evening of Dec. 6 and the early morning of Dec. 7 the critical information indicating an almost immediate break with Japan, though there was ample time to have accomplished this.

"(D) To investigate and determine the state of readiness of the Hawaiian command between Nov. 27 and Dec. 7, 1941, despite the impending threat of war."

Mr. Truman issued the following statement:

"I have here reports on the Pearl Harbor disaster. One is from the army and one is from the navy. The navy report gives a 'finding of facts' by a navy court of inquiry. Attached to this findings of facts are indorsements by the judge advocate general of the navy, Rear Adm. T. L. Gatch; Adm. E. J. King, chief of naval operations, and the secretary of the navy. You will find a summation of the findings in the final indorsement by the secretary of the navy at the end of the document.

'LOST' CRUISER'S SURVIVORS SAFE

Some Of Men From Houston Found In Thailand Camp

By The Associated Press.
KANDY, Ceylon, Aug. 29 — The evacuation of 300 prisoners of war from Japanese war camps in Thailand, some of them survivors of the American Cruiser Houston, began today by plane from Bangkok.

The Houston had not been heard from since the Battle of the Java Sea in 1942 until the prisoners were found in Thailand.

The first group was comprised of approximately 122 former prisoners.

Starting Thursday, men released from the Petuburi camp near Bangkok will be flown out.

The released prisoners were described as "generally in pretty good condition."

Evacuation planes will fly the men to Calcutta, India.

Two emaciated enlisted men of the Houston's crew carried the word to a guerrilla training station in Thailand that several hundred of their mates were held by the Japanese in jungle prison camps.

The news was brought to the United States by Lt. Col. Nicol Smith, an underground operator for the office of strategic services.

The Houston was hit by two 8-inch shells in the Battle of the Java Sea Feb. 27, 1942. The next night she started out from Tanjung Priok to try to run the Soenda Strait.

With her was the Australian cruiser Perth and trailing them was the Dutch destroyer Evertsen. Last word from any of the three came from the Evertsen, which reported she had been caught by two enemy cruisers and was beaching in sinking condition.

Col. Smith said the two enlisted men escaped from one of the prison camps and, aided by Thais, made their way to the guerrilla station. They arrived there nearly dead from privation.

The two said several hundred others had survived three and a half years of imprisonment in the remote jungles of Thailand and southern Asia.

The O.S.S. parachuted medicines, supplies and army cooks into the guerrilla camp to help the men. Soon they will be flown out of the jungle.

Light Cruiser's Sick Bay Hit In Jap Kamikaze Attack

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 — The light cruiser Birmingham took her third major battle damage of the war when she was hit at Okinawa last May 4 by a Japanese suicide fighter-bomber.

The navy, disclosing this today, said the crash took its heaviest toll in the sick bay and officers' quarters. Casualties totaled 45 killed, six missing and 83 wounded. Both the ship's medical officers were killed, together with 19 of the 24 hospital corpsmen.

The Birmingham had suffered serious damage when she was torpedoed Nov. 8, 1943, and again last October when the carrier Princeton blew up alongside her as she was seeking to lend aid.

In action from the beginning of the Okinawa invasion, the Birmingham fought off three direct suicide plane attacks. But after more than 30 days of almost continuous action, the cruiser was hit by a kamikaze which heavy antiaircraft fire was unable to swerve from its vertical course.

The plane crashed, along with its 500-pound bomb, just aft of the No. 2 turret. The bomb penetrated three decks and exploded on the fourth level.

No one was injured as 18 firemen battled the blaze between 5:30 and 7:30, but four families who occupied apartments over the store were forced to flee. They returned after the fire was brought under control.

Occupants were Mr. and Mrs. William Shrieve and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Zak and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith and child, and Richard Tiley and son. Flames did not reach the second floor, but dense smoke drove them out.

Arron and Harry Green, owners of the building and operators of the store, said five hogs and seven calves, quartered in the slaughterhouse in the rear of the building on the first floor, were destroyed with fixtures and walls damaged by the flames and water. Water damage also was caused in the basement to stock and fixtures.

Fire Chief Ed Barrett said the fire originated about 5:30 in the rear of the first floor, where several men were working. They tried to extinguish the blaze and then sent in the alarm. As the fire gained headway, the Beaver fire department was called at 6:10.

STRIKE DELAYS WORK ON FORD'S 1946 CARS

By The Associated Press.
DETROIT, Aug. 29 — The first stoppage of production of 1946 passenger cars was announced today by Ford Motor Co. spokesmen, who said assembly lines at the Ford Rouge plant were halted by a strike at the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co.

The strike, begun last Thursday by 4,500 workers, has stopped the flow of brake drums and wheels to the Ford Rouge and Highland Park plants and idled nearly 2,000 Ford workers. Work on Ford tractors also has been halted.

EAST END PLANT IDLE AS MEN STAY OFF JOB

The Patterson Foundry and Machine Co. was idle today after over 150 employees failed to show up for work.

The company said the men gathered at the plant gates at starting time today, but none entered. A spokesman said the East End concern has no knowledge of the reason for the men's refusal to work, and the union, a CIO affiliate, had not contacted the firm this afternoon.

Officials of the local could not be reached immediately for comment.

DEMANDS GROW THAT DRAFT BE ENDED SHORTLY

Truman's Plea To Continue Army Calls Ignored By Many Legislators

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 — Demands mounted on Capitol Hill today for the end of modification of the draft.

These demands ignored pleas by President Truman and the war department that it be continued on a two-year basis for men 18 through 25.

Rep. Sikes (D) of Florida predicted that congress will scrap selective service before Christmas.

Many others spoke out against further draft calls. Particularly they oppose inducting youths of 18 and 19. They insist a program of special inducements for volunteers would provide enough men.

Only a scattered few voiced support of the draft. Those few termed its retention a "necessary evil."

Meanwhile, key officials said today that a revised point system for speeding army discharges will be started soon. All that's needed is a green light from Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The possibility of almost immediate adoption of the new point system was cited by both Chairman May (D) of Kentucky of the house military committee and Maj. Gen. Stephen G. Henry, assistant army chief of staff for personnel.

The revised setup, which applies only to enlisted men, calls for:

- 1.—Recompensation of points, which now are figured as of May 12. This will boost all scores several figures.
- 2.—A cut from 85 to 80 in the number of points needed for a discharge.
- 3.—Shipment overseas only of men with less than 60 points. The present figure is 75.
- 4.—Virtual abandonment of the policy of keeping men in service because of special skills regardless of their points.
- 5.—A reduction in the age limit at which men may retire. At present it is 38.
- 6.—A similar program of speedier discharges for WACS, with a reduction from 44 to 41 in the number of points needed for discharge.

Enlistments Resumed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—President Truman today ordered the resumption of voluntary enlistments in the armed forces.

Such enlistments were suspended Dec. 5, 1942. Today's order revokes that suspension with a view to adding to military forces during the period they are needed for occupation of Germany and Japan.

JAP SURRENDER TO BE WATCHED BY WAINWRIGHT

Hero Hopes To See Homma, Pompous Conqueror Of Yanks At Corregidor

By The Associated Press.
CHUNGKING, Aug. 29—Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright looked forward today to seeing at the final surrender ceremonies in Tokyo some of the Japanese commanders who accepted with pompous arrogance the capitulation of his heroic American band at Corregidor.

In particular he hopes to see at the scene of Japan's complete humiliation the onetime commander in chief of Japanese forces in the Philippines—Gen. Masaharu Homma.

"Gen. Wainwright told me that he hopes that Japanese Gen. Homma to whom he surrendered at Corregidor, is present when the Japanese sign the surrender," said Col. James H. S. Rasmussen of Phoebe, Va., pilot of the plane which brought Gen. Wainwright to Chungking from Mukden.

Former Prisoners Go Along
The 62-year-old hero of the American stand on Bataan and Corregidor has accepted Gen. MacArthur's invitation to go to Tokyo for the surrender ceremonies, a Manila dispatch said. He plans to leave Chungking by plane Thursday, accompanied by Brig. Gen. Lewis C. Beebe, Col. John Pugh, Maj. Thomas Dooley and Tech. Sgt. H. R. Carroll, all former prisoners of the Japanese.

"All this group were with me on the tragic day when I had to surrender and I'm especially anxious that they be present when we accept the Japanese surrender," Gen. Wainwright's message to Gen. MacArthur said.

One officer now in Chungking told how Gen. Wainwright, who assumed command of American forces in the Philippines in 1942 when Gen. MacArthur was ordered to leave to become supreme commander in the southwest Pacific, reacted to the second order from the Japanese to surrender on Bataan. The officer, who asked that his name be withheld, quoted Gen. Wainwright as saying:

"I've been to general staff school and the war college, but they never taught me what to do if I was called upon to surrender. I guess we shall have to continue fighting."

Displays Considerable Vigor
The hero, looking thin, but displaying considerable vigor, found rest one of the most difficult things to attain since his arrival here. He shows signs of more than three years of life in a Japanese prison camp, but his voice is firm as he goes through formal press conferences and sessions with photographers at the headquarters of Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, U. S. commander in China.

After a dinner which included the first hamburger and ice cream he had seen in three years, Gen. Wainwright had to make a radio broadcast before he could return (Turn to WAINWRIGHT, Page 6)

Entries already are being made for the many departments, including produce, livestock, poultry, foods, sewing, farm goods and other displays, and sponsors said with wartime restrictions removed and gasoline available, attendance should be the best in years.

Tuesday, Sept. 11, will be devoted to installing the displays and exhibits for the first night fair that night, when the gates will be opened officially.

G. A. Rogers, secretary of the racing program, said that many fine horses are being entered for the trotting events Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

Mass Occupation To Begin Tonight; Leaders On Hand

By The Associated Press
Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reached Tokyo bay today by seaplane as Gen. Douglas MacArthur waited at Okinawa for Thursday's mass occupation of vanquished Japan by 18,250 Allied troops from air and sea.

Naval officials already have inspected the Yokosuka naval base at close range and the Tokyo radio said the Yokohama marine transport board building has been chosen as general headquarters for the occupation forces.

The first American ship to dock at Yokosuka, the task force commander, Rear Adm. Oscar C. Badger, said, will be the cruiser San Diego. He gave this tentative schedule of events:

British troops (250 royal marines, 20 royal navy personnel) will go ashore on two Tokyo bay islands guarding Yokosuka at 6:15 a. m. Japan time (5:15 p. m. today, East Liverpool war time) and Americans will occupy a third islet.

Americans (3,000 marines and 1,200 sailors) will land at and near the Yokosuka naval base about 10 a. m. Japan time (9 p. m. today, East Liverpool war time).

Gen. MacArthur and his 7,500 air-borne troops are expected at Atsugi airfield, 20 miles southwest of Tokyo, almost simultaneously.

American marine or bluejacket units also may board the wrecked Japanese battleship Nagato, at Yokosuka, Adm. Badger said—to make sure her guns won't fire.

Weather permitting, the cruiser San Diego will dock at Yokosuka about 10:30 a. m. (9:30 p. m. today, East Liverpool war time).

Rear Adm. Robert R. Carney, Adm. Halsey's chief of staff, will accept occupation papers at Yokosuka on behalf of his commander and Adm. Badger will supervise administration of the new American base.

Adm. Nimitz will shift his five-starred flag from the battleship South Dakota to the new U.S.S. Missouri early Sunday morning. Allied dignitaries will witness Japan's formal surrender there later Sunday.

Adm. Halsey, whose 16-inch battleship guns will cover the landing at Yokosuka, steamed into Tokyo bay aboard the proud Missouri.

The Missouri was followed by a line of other warships, including the South Dakota, veteran of South Pacific battles, and the British Duke of York, conqueror in the Atlantic of the German Scharnhorst and now flagship of Adm. Sir Bruce Fraser.

Other major units of the combined fleets lay across Miura peninsula in Sagami bay or stood in the Pacific ocean outside the bay, ready to send their swarms of carrier planes to cover the joint landings.

Vice-Adm. Frank Jack Fletcher's North Pacific naval force of escort carriers, cruisers and destroyers prepared to sail for Japan to join the occupation fleet. It will arrive after the landing of the American and British and probably will be assigned to patrol northern Japanese waters.

Japanese medical officers promised that when occupation forces land 6,125 prisoners of war and 94 civilian internees will be released in the Tokyo area.

Among them, a fleet report said, may be Maj. Gregory (Pappy) Boyington, holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor. The air hero of China and the South Pacific was reported alive, a step toward the fulfillment of his pledge to his flying mates before he was shot down over Rabaul to "see you in a San Diego bar six months after the war is over."

Announcements of new Japanese surrenders trickled in from Pacific islands.

Old Glory flew over Mill atoll in the Marshalls after the surrender of the surviving 2,400 Nipponese of an original garrison of 4,500. Two hundred marines occupied the atoll, which long has been a bomb practice target for carrier and marine pilots.

Eight thousand Japanese capitulated on Morotai, a MacArthur

'Caught Unprepared'

ABOARD U.S.S. SOUTH DAKOTA, Tokyo Bay, Aug. 29—Adm. Nimitz declared today the Japanese surrender came earlier than expected and caught the Allies before they were "fully prepared."

The surrender thus had something of the same unexpected element as the Pearl Harbor attack, correspondents noted as they talked to the bronzed, white-haired fleet admiral in the big cabin of his flagship.

steppingstone to the Philippines, and near-by bypassed Malaya. The surrender to Maj. Gen. Harry W. Johnson, commander of the 93rd army division, was the first large-scale capitulation in the southwest Pacific.

Simultaneously with his arrival on Okinawa, Gen. MacArthur was awarded his fourth Distinguished Service Medal, this one by President Truman for his liberation of the Philippines.

Gen. MacArthur is scheduled to confer there with Gen. Spaatz, commander of the U. S. army strategic air forces, and with Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the U. S. Eighth army who will command ground forces in the Tokyo area.

Gen. Jonathan Wainwright and Gen. MacArthur will be reunited in Japan this week end. Gen. Wainwright, liberated dramatically from a Japanese prison camp last week, arrived in Chungking yesterday.

Accepting Gen. MacArthur's invitation to accompany him aboard the Missouri Sunday for the surrender signing, he messaged his thanks.

Japanese residents in Yokosuka are to remain indoors and all traffic will be prohibited, when American forces begin occupation of the naval base area, the Domei news agency reported today.

The broadcast, recorded by the federal communications commission described the orders as "a precaution against any danger during the landing." It warned that as obstructing the occupation forces and Allied planes may attack them."

The parade of American naval might ended at a point which Adm. Halsey has said should be America's most western naval base. Across the roof of a large Yokohama factory building is a Japanese-painted sign reading: "Three Cheers for the U. S. Navy and Army."

Plainly visible from the decks of the warships are many factory buildings blackened and gutted in bombing raids by carrier planes and super-fortresses at Yokohama. Yokohama's residences appear

Maj. Boyington, Missing Ace, Reported Alive In Tokyo Area

By The Associated Press.
ABOARD U.S.S. ANCON, Tokyo Bay, Aug. 29—American land, sea and air forces thrilled today to the news that Maj. Gregory Boyington, 32-year-old holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor and the Navy Cross for his daring exploits as a marine flier is alive. He had been missing more than 17 months.

The report of his safety was flashed from the American cruiser San Juan. He is believed to be in Tokyo.

Officially credited with sending 26 enemy planes to their destruction in Pacific actions, Maj. Boyington nevertheless, is believed by his Black Sheep squadron of Corsair pilots to have shot down at least 40.

He last was seen Jan. 3, 1944, trailing a Japanese plane into a cloud near Rabaul.

The former University of Washington wrestling champion, fondly nicknamed "Pappy" by his friends, first got his ace's rating in downing five Zeros in a single engagement.

PLAN AGREED ON FOR HANDLING OF LABOR DISPUTES

Schwellenbach, Taylor Set Temporary Action, But Still Argue Details

By The United Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach and Chairman George W. Taylor of the war labor board announced jointly Tuesday night that they have agreed to a temporary program for handling reconversion labor disputes, but they appeared in conflict over some details.

Mr. Schwellenbach refused to accept a WLB proposal that his department's conciliation service settle all disputes except those where the parties agree to be bound by the WLB decision on the issues.

Order Viewed As Mandate
He contended that President Truman's new stabilization order is a mandate to certify to the WLB cases in which, in his opinion, the dispute "might interrupt work contributing to the production of military supplies or interfere with effective transition to a peacetime economy."

The WLB proposed that in all new disputes the conciliation service should:

1.—Consult with the parties as to the expanded scope of collective bargaining under the liberalized wage policy.

2.—Urge that the parties refer to private arbitration any issues which they cannot settle.

3.—Certify to the WLB only after the parties "agree to submit it to the WLB for final and binding determination."

Rejects One Point
Mr. Schwellenbach refused to accept point three because, he said: "In certain types of cases it would be undesirable for the conciliation service to go too far in attempting to secure voluntary submission with a stipulation for the acceptance of the board's determination."

Mr. Schwellenbach and Mr. Taylor said in a statement compromising their differences that where the conciliation service obtains an agreement from the parties to submit to the WLB final and binding determination the board automatically will accept certification of new disputes.

ARGENTINES ASSURED MY BRISTLING BRADEN

By The Associated Press.
BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 29—Sruille Braden said Tuesday in a speech bristling with attacks on fascist governments he intends to continue without interruption "the task which I was discharging here" when he takes up his duties in Washington as assistant secretary of state.

Mr. Braden declared the Argentine people can count on his support at all times.

"Let no one imagine then that my transfer to Washington will mean I am abandoning the task I have been discharging here," he said. "The voice of liberty is making itself heard in this country and I do not believe anyone will be able to smother it."

Mr. Braden's speech was accepted as having direct application to Argentina's military regime.

Campaign Nets $16,589,874 To Carry Fight Against Polio

Special To The Review.
NEW YORK, Aug. 29—Topping last year's unprecedented donations by more than 50 per cent, the American people contributed $16,589,874 to the 1945 March of Dimes of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, as against $10,973,491 for 1944, it was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the foundation from its national headquarters here.

In releasing the report, Mr. O'Connor expressed the foundation's gratification "for this overwhelming evidence of America's determination to wage relentless warfare against infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis) until the disease has been wiped out."

He voiced appreciation for the united efforts of the press, radio, motion picture and theater industry, the sports world, labor groups and the "millions of Americans in all walks of life whose magnificent support of this cause has given us the necessary ammunition to carry on the fight."

Of the total amount of funds raised, 50 per cent is allocated to national headquarters of the foundation to finance research into the

GERMAN GIRLS MORE NAZIFIED

'Typical' Youth Still Favors Fuhrer For Country

By JAMES F. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer
OFFENBACH, Germany, Aug. 29—German girls appear more nazified than boys, an American survey discloses.

After a week of study and questioning of 254 German boys and girls between 14 and 18 in this city, the army's information control intelligence division drew a picture of a hypothetical "typical" German youth in the American zone.

"This youth wants to continue living in Germany and considers Russia the worst place in the world in which to live," the report said. "He feels that Germans as a people are superior to Italians, Poles, Russians and French, but not to Americans and Britons."

The "typical" youth attributes Allied victory over Germany to superior materials and air supremacy. While ready to admit Germany started the war, he also places "responsibility" on Jews, Englishmen and Poles.

He "expresses the view that Germany should become a democracy," the report said. "At the same time, however, he says the idea of National Socialism was good, but not carried out right."

Lady's Stomach Was Like A Gas Factory: Meals Turned To Gas

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory!" That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE OF STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloating after eating. Headaches and constipation are gone. "Oh! what relief!" states this lady. "Why don't other gas and constipation sufferers get Erb-Help?"

ERB-HELP contains 12 great herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by all drug stores here in East Liverpool.—Adv.

'Ghost Town' Union Aid Informs U.S. Of Mingo's Plight

By The Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29—Secretary David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers of America today described Mingo Junction, O., as "ghost steel town" No. 2, saying it has only 60 workers now employed in industrial jobs.

Mr. McDonald wrote Director John W. Snyder of the office of war mobilization and reconversion, saying: "The citizens of this steel town, most of whom are old residents and home owners, want to know what is being done about their plight."

The union leader declared the community of 5,300 has lost 96 per cent of its industrial jobs, permanently. He added: "U. S. Steel has abandoned its operations here. A year ago, 1,400 workers were employed by U. S. Steel."

SHOPPING SPREE ON WITH SCHOOL REOPENING NEAR

Girls Stick To Sweaters And Skirts, Boys Like Bright Sports Shirts

With reopening of school just a week away, Mr. and Mrs. East Liverpool have descended on the city's business district with little Johnny and Mary in tow for the annual job of supplying them with a fall and winter wardrobe before the return to classes.

Back-to-school clothing buying is in full swing, and probably will continue through this week and all of next, merchants reported.

Families began stocking up on children's classroom wear as long as three or four weeks ago, but sales have been heaviest in the last few days.

The well-dressed high school girl will wear the traditional costume of the bobby soxers—principally skirts and sweaters or blouses, usually with saddle shoes or other low-heeled oxford types.

It's Slacks For Boys

And the boys will be wearing slacks again, this time with rainbow-hued sports shirts. The most popular shirt pattern for high school boys is a bright red with a black plaid effect, according to merchants.

"They're selling as fast as we can put them on the counter," one manager said. "I guess high school classes will look like a convention of moose hunters as far as the boys' shirts are concerned."

Shoe sales have been heavy, but most families are using their own ration stamps instead of applying for extras at the ration board, as many did last fall.

Few Calls For Stamps

The ration board said its requests for special shoe stamps have been virtually non-existent, principally because a new coupon was validated Aug. 1. In addition, most families feel shoe rationing will be lifted shortly, so consequently they're not trying to hold a reserve of the stamps, the board pointed out.

Last year it was a different story. Hundreds of applications for special shoe stamps were filed a few weeks before schools reopened.

Merchants said the average family still is spending a comparatively ample amount on school clothes. The outlay compares favorably with that of 1943 and 1944, running well ahead of 1942 and prewar years, merchants said.

Purchases run mostly to heavier winter clothing, including coats, but many have been disappointed by the meager supply of girls' wash dresses.

Trade Tools For Textbooks—

Working Pupils Asked To Return To School

EAST LIVERPOOL schools today joined a national appeal for the return to classes of students who have interrupted their education for war jobs, or other employment.

Issuance of work permits here more than doubled during the labor shortage when war industries hired all comers for lucrative jobs, but the victory that closed or curtailed many plants is expected to cause most of the working youngsters to trade their wrench or welding torch for the textbook and resume their education.

School Supt. W. G. Fordyce said work permits, either full- or part-time, totaled 545 between July, 1944, and June, 1945, although some of these may be "repeaters" for youngsters who skipped from one job to another and needed a permit each time.

Only 261 permits were issued for the school year of 1944-45, and this fell to 257 for 1944-45, but the outbreak of the war caused a sharp jump to 591 for 1942-43, mounting to 606 for 1943-44.

This year's permits went to 269 for full-time and 257 for part-time with 19 miscellaneous. Over 60 per cent were boys, and most of the applicants were in the 14-through-17 age group.

But the industrial recession with the war over already has started a trek back to school for many, and the superintendent's office said work permits being turned in averaged about six daily.

Some have been laid off while others have decided "the working world isn't what it's cracked up to be" and will resume their education. Some of the boys given permits when 16 and who are now 17 with a year's work experience back of them may not willingly return, unless they have been dismissed meanwhile.

The Ohio state department of education, the U. S. office of education, the children's bureau, the U. S. department of labor and the National Education Association have united in the movement to return the youngsters from factory or stores to classrooms, especially teen-age boys and girls who have not completed their high school education.

During the war, some 3,000,000 boys and girls 14 to 17 were at work throughout the nation. Sponsors of the drive said half of them dropped out of school entirely, while about half were employed in part-time jobs.

With the war at an end, many of the jobs held by teen-agers will be filled by older people, and "it is imperative that every effort be made to encourage these children to return to school and complete their education," sponsors said.

"The responsibility and obligation is even greater now when youth must prepare for postwar services and the duties of citizenship," the group declared.

President Truman has issued an appeal, as has Gov. Frank J. Lausche for Ohio.

By The Associated Press. CHICAGO, Aug. 29 — After the slight easing of gasoline restrictions last June 22, the nation's July traffic death toll rose 15 per cent over the same month in 1944, the National Safety Council said today.

Go Back To School

EDUCATORS are warning teen-agers who have had wartime employment against the illusion of earning power without special training. War jobs are not typical.

Over the long pull, the most income is most likely to go to the best-prepared competitors for the most desirable jobs. There is always room at the top and always room for improvement at the bottom.

Go back to school, advise the educators. Youth needs all the education it can get. The best breaks come to those who know best how to take advantage of them.

There is yet another reason for going back to school, and it is most compelling when used by parents. Education and earning power are closely related, and so are education and happiness.

Parents who have made that discovery are best qualified to point out to teen-agers who may want to quit school prematurely that they might regret it most in middle age, when many persons realize that they lack the means of filling their lives with something besides the drudgery of earning a living and keeping house. There are a thousand arguments for staying in school—for learning just as much as possible. There is not one good argument on the other side.

Was Everybody Satisfied?

SOVIET RUSSIA'S 30-year pact with China's Chungking government seems to short-circuit the so-called communist regime at Yenan, but it is too early to reach conclusions on a matter of such magnitude.

If Chinese civil war has been averted and a beginning made on the solution for the momentous problem of establishing confidence between Russia and its closest Asiatic neighbor, the diplomacy that produced the settlement will be one of the outstanding accomplishments of the war.

There is nothing available at the moment but the circumstantial evidence of a brilliant stroke of legislative work, with Gen. Patrick J. Hurley apparently fitting importantly into the foreground. The threat of civil war in China has been lifted. Russia's inevitable expansion into Asia has been revealed to be less extensive than many Chinese feared.

The Chinese communists, whatever they are, have been relegated to the position of a minority without power to inflict their will. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has been affirmed as the responsible head of the country's only legitimate government by the only foreign power ever suspected of wanting to challenge his position. It may be hoped too much to believe that everybody is satisfied, but until the dissatisfied parties put in their complaints the Chinese settlement looks like a great diplomatic victory.

Peacetime Conscription

THE question mark over the policy of continuing to induct men into the armed services is hanging on the outcome of another question—postwar military training.

Until that question has been answered, the induction of young men into the services at a time when there is no immediate likelihood of war must be regarded as a kind of substitute for military training and therefore will be questioned in that light.

President Truman's declaration to the chairman of congressional military committees that he cannot recommend abandonment of conscription at this time because of unsettled conditions represent what is known to be military opinion. The services want to retain large forces. They are not confident of being able to obtain enough volunteers to give them what they want. Mr. Truman, pointing out that the proportion of men to be conscripted will be determined by the proportion of men who volunteer, may have made the logical summary of the issue.

The United States cannot fulfill its military obligations with a volunteer army. It cannot fulfill them with a kind of military training program that would provide no forces for duty outside the United States without specific action by congress. The United States is heading either for permanent military conscription, or renunciation of the military commitments it has undertaken. The news is being broken gently—but it is being broken.

Conservation of tin has been stepped up by the use of silver in bearings formerly requiring tin, by turning to coating processes that take less tin than the old dipping methods, and by switches to glass, paper and fiber for products usually packed in tin.

Sixteen tree-planting machines built after one designed by the agricultural engineering department at the University of Wisconsin completed the planting of over 5,000,000 trees during the 1944 and 1945 tree planting seasons.

Since the loss of Far Eastern sources of supply of tin, Bolivia has filled up to three-fourths of the tin needs of the United States.

These Days

The Dartmouth College Case

QUITE a stir has been made over the position taken by Dr. Ernest M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth college, justifying the limitation of students in a college or university on a racial or religious basis. As is usual in such quarrels, the issue has become personal, with plenty of diversion from the principles involved.

These principles need to be restated if the problem is to be analyzed adequately.

In the United States, there are two distinct types of educational institutions (1) those which are supported by taxes and (2) those which are privately-owned and controlled schools have a legal and moral right to adopt any regulations they choose, so long as such regulations do not violate the laws of the particular state in which they are situated.

SOME of these schools are in reality not institutions of learning at all. They more accurately could be described as institutions of attendance. Their entrance requirements are designed to attract a particular type of boy—often an athlete—who may possess no gifts of scholarship.

When I used to lecture widely over the country, I often was surprised to find Ph.D.'s whose speech represented only a nodding acquaintance with the English language and I once was introduced to an audience by the president of a college whose language and thought were not far above that of a high school freshman.

The country is full of colleges of this sort, some of which thrive on a reputation in athletics, others of which live on a glorious past. Such schools add nothing to American scholarship and those who attend them are wasting their time, which is probably what they desire to do.

A theory has been developed, not only in such institutions but even among some of the leaders of learning in this country, that a university "of a national type" should have representation on "a national basis."

This is nonsense. In the first place, a university does not exist for representation on any basis. It exists for scholarship. It does not exist to provide boys with a comfortable place for a good time. It does not exist to win football games.

It does not exist for "contacts" and friendships in existence for scholarships. It exists to continue the humanistic function of improving the minds, the intellectual techniques and the characters of those who attend them.

WHEN a college or university ceases to have any excuse for existence and those who are expending its funds are diverting them from the purpose for which they are contributed. One of the most tricky and dishonest processes employed by those who have lost their focus is the use of a psychological test to determine whether an applicant is likely to be fit for leadership.

The committee on admissions, or by whatever name it goes, which pretend that it can decide a boy just out of high school will be a leader of men at 40 is a fraud. It has no way of knowing that. Its purpose is to keep boys out of that particular college who may be equipped by scholarship to matriculate for it. How can it improve the character of boys when it itself resorts to a lie?

The answer to the problem is that the American college and university needs to be restored to its proper function of scholarship. Our really great universities, such as, to mention only two, Harvard and Chicago, bar no man of ability and character, no matter what his race, religion or color.

No others should unless they are openly and publicly denominational. Dartmouth is not water because Dr. Hopkins does not face the issue honestly and squarely. If he wishes to establish a basis other than scholarship for admission, he should state precisely what that basis is. Then scholars, recognizing it as an institution of attendance, would stay away from it.

Santa Fe-Y

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON — Of the three main projects connected with atomic bomb production, the least known, even now, is what the inner circle refers to as the Santa Fe-Y project.

Not only that, but Santa Fe-Y undoubtedly will be one of the world's most closely guarded secrets until the atomic bomb is no longer a mystery to any nation.

In a "hidden" valley near Santa Fe, N. M., "Y" project, as it was called originally (and thus not even identified with the huge "Manhattan" plants in Tennessee and Washington, state, became the center of activity for a 600-man team of the nation's aristocrats of skilled workers and scientists.

After the buildings were up, was the Los Alamos boys' school was remodeled to house laboratories and assembly rooms, no unskilled or even semi-skilled workers drew pay at Santa Fe-Y.

Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, the University of California atom smasher and physicist, headed the scientific staff and had general supervision of this final phase of atomic bomb assembly and testing. Col. Gerald B. Tyler was in command of an army detachment which, 24 hours a day, in blizzard and balmy weather, kept a bayonetted wall of guards around the whole project.

Into this great compound, the war manpower commission poured a steady stream of the very royalty of the nation's skilled artisans. The project was so "hush-hush" that specifications and requirements for the recruiting of these men never were committed to paper.

Although WMC officials couldn't offer wage inducements greater than absolute tops allowed by the war labor board, other monetary inducements were held out—paid transportation of the men and their families (even back from the job if they stayed six months or more); and in some instances even per diem expenses of $3 to $5.

Oddly enough, the WMC found the New Mexico climate one of its strongest talking points in wooing highly-skilled workers from jobs and localities in which, in most instances, the men felt they would work on until retirement.

Because of rigorous examination by the FBI and army intelligence, Santa Fe-Y really did get the cream of the crop. WMC officials say.

Although their recruiting staffs did much weeding out before they were even offered to Santa Fe-Y, potential employees, they had to refer 1,605 persons before Santa Fe-Y had the 519 that filled its quota. The rest couldn't pass the FBI-army screenings.

The greatest working difficulty was the isolation of the project and the concentrated secrecy with which it was surrounded.

No families were allowed on the reservation and during the working week the men were virtually incommunicado.

Recreation facilities were provided—the men even built themselves a sporty nine-hole golf course—but as far as contact with the outside world was concerned, the men were working in a vacuum.

And if you don't believe they still are, try to find out much more about Santa Fe-Y.

Cotton Corners

DEAR Nephew: It looks like I'll have to lean into the harness harder after this. Your aunt has lost her job. While it hadn't amounted to much lately, it still brought in more than I could put into the sugar bowl.

She feels bad about it, and I know why. All of us, barring the no-accounts, like to think we are useful. That war job gave your aunt a chance to feel useful at an age when most women have something to do besides listen to the radio.

The thing that really mattered was proving to herself that she was a cut above the average. When they made her a straw boss she was more tickled than she would have been if they'd made her a vice-president. She proved to herself that she had something on the ball.

She and I never had any jealousies about such things, so she had the satisfaction of knowing that whatever she wanted to do was all right with me. The way I see it, when two people are married it doesn't mean that one of them automatically wins the right to give all the orders.

That's beside the point. As soon as I realized your aunt was having fun winning a place for herself at the war plant, I clammed up and handled the dislocations here at home as best I could. She had been tactful enough to keep her mouth shut through my trials and tribulations, so it was the least I could do.

According to what I read in the papers and magazines, most women are going to be glad to give up their war jobs. I doubt that. Some of the women maybe. The rest have been making comparisons with housework, which doesn't even pay straight time. Your aunt hasn't said much, but after more than 40 years I can read her thoughts like radar. She is wondering what she will do next.

I am going to let her wonder awhile, then I am going to bring up the matter of reviving the lunch room business we were starting when the war broke out. I would be the greeter and major domo and she would supervise the cooking.

We would get girls from around here to do the rest. It would keep us in touch with the public, fit in nice with the filling station and might even give the store a chance to pay for itself.

It also would give your aunt a chance to think she was proving herself in a new field of endeavor. While I always have told her she was the best cook in the country, she won't believe it until she hears it from outsiders. Please do not mention this to her.

I want to surprise her with an idea she probably has had in the back of her head ever since the first lunch room folded up soon after Pearl Harbor. Please give my regards to the family and we will be expecting to see you often. Let me know how the rationing has been lifted. No hum, and heaven help the food supply.

Which Way?

Along Opposite Paths

By Mark Sullivan

WASHINGTON—About the ending of lend-lease to Britain, there can be no real question of fact, though in the ensuing commotion such questions are raised.

That lend-lease should end simultaneously with the end of military operations was clearly understood. Most certainly it was understood in Washington and if it was not understood in London the explanation must be sought in the preoccupation of London with its other problems and tasks, which are many and heavy.

When the lend-lease act last was renewed by congress, there was position on the ground that it might be continued indefinitely into peacetime.

To meet that opposition, assurance was sought from the then president, Mr. Roosevelt. The assurance was given to, among others, Mr. Truman, who was then vice-president, and as such a link between the White House and the senate. Mr. Truman transmitted the assurance to members of the senate and this had a part in the willingness of congress to renew lend-lease.

Mr. Truman is a man who takes assurances seriously and his termination of lend-lease was made in that spirit.

The ending of lend-lease does not at all mean that we will not give future financial and economic aid to Britain. On the contrary, it long has been the expectation that we should give such aid and the expectation is not diminished by the current commotion over the ending of lend-lease.

THE plans of the administration, and the attitude of congress, always have assumed that economic reconstruction of the world is an imperative necessity, and that we, as the richest nation, should bear the largest burden. Mechanisms for aid to Britain and to other nations are already set up. Some of the money already is provided for. In Washington today there is no question about going on with the plan.

True, the extension of aid to Britain, and the whole problem of building up international world trade, is made complex by the unexpected turn of Britain toward socialism.

For if Britain should go all the way in the nationalizing of industry, the process would be likely to include, in the end, nationalizing its instrumentalities for world trade, which is Britain's leading industry. Such nationalization by Britain, if it should take place, would introduce difficulties in the way of our participation in international trade, as a country practicing private ownership.

The difficult question is whether world trade can be carried out upon a basis part socialist, part private ownership. In any event, the confident expectation of Washington today is that either Britain will not go the whole distance toward socialism or that even so some way will be found to give Britain the aid she needs.

The British election last July, bringing to Britain the objective of socialism, set in motion influences which profoundly affect the post war world. Consequences, many unexpected and some disturbing, emerge every day.

The whole spectacle consists of one great nation, Britain, going one way, another, the United States, going the opposite path. How the two ultimately fare will do much to influence the judgment of the world on the two systems.

THE contrast was made stark last week. In Britain, spokesmen of the party in power announced that it will, in its discretion, continue war controls for five years. At the same moment, in the United States, the Truman administration was energetically busy terminating war controls.

At the moment when we in America have the beginning of abundance, Britain is told officially that it faces increased privation. As we get more clothing, the British are told they will get less by a fourth than the wartime ration. As to food and other essentials, the contrast is the same — for us more, for Britain less.

This early contrast, to our advantage, does not provide the final answer, that will not come until after the British experiment has had enough time to show whether socialism can, as its advocates claim, provide a greater abundance of goods and a better distribution of them.

Six months from now, or a year or two years, the British people will know, and so will we and the world, whether as respects all the aspects and fruits of an economic system—abundance, employment, security, well-being, personal liberty—socialism or free enterprise is the better mechanism.

Friendly Warning

AMARILLO, Tex. — Here's a warning to English boys from an English girl who married an American soldier.

"If the boys in England don't change their technique after the war, they'll find themselves without girls. They're too cold and formal."

She's the former Bridget Nunan of London, now Mrs. James W. Haywood of Amarillo. She says Haywood kissed her on their first date and "it couldn't imagine why I let him do it, but I kind of liked it."

She likes America, too—particularly all the white bread and ice cream.

Has your sister gone quite gooney
Over a man who has a wife?
Does your little boy Ignatius
Tackle nursemaids with a knife?
Does your daughter chew tobacco
And your happiness impair?
Get them all together quickly,
And we'll put 'em on the air!

Are you married to a fellow
Who thinks marriage does not bind?
Does your father think it awful
Though your mother doesn't mind?
Does your little boy pick pockets
And see nothing wrong in crime?
Hic thee with them for an evening
On the radio big time!

Do you think it's time for marriage
With a stubborn bazzard who
Has been going with you "steady"
Since the spring of sixty-two?
Does he say: "Be patient, honey,
'Til our love quite seasoned is?"
Tell your story while an organ
Gives the deeper notes the bis!

Do you think that you are wedded
To a gent who says you ain't?
Does he say: "That's just your story!"
In a manner rather quaint?
Does he say: "I don't remember."
When the nuptials you recall?
What a story for the airwaves
If you'll kindly tell it all!

Does your little girl drink whisky
And stay out till three or four?
Has she cut out all her schooling
Because studies are a bore?
Would she marry some big onion
And then bring him home to stay?
Let the airwave staff of judges
Ease your worries right away.

Is your husband's only failure
That he likes to rob the bank?
Is he stubborn when you warn him:

Iron all such troubles out!

MERCHANTS GET NOWHERE IN CRY FOR PRICE BOOST

Bowles Merely Says He Will Think It Over Following Attacks On OPA

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 — The nation's storekeepers fought the OPA Tuesday for higher retail prices on new peacetime goods, but didn't get them.

Their spokesmen charged that the OPA's price policy is "unsound and inequitable," had gone out of date when Japan surrendered and is unsuited to peace. But the merchants—the OPA's retail pricing committee, an industry group set up to give advice on retail pricing—went away with little more than a promise from Price Administrator Chester Bowles that he would think it over.

Fixes 'Cost Absorption'
The major target of the businessmen was the OPA's ruling that vacuum cleaners, washers and other goods long out of production must come back to the stores at their 1942 prices, or very little higher.

The OPA does grant increases to the manufacturers when their costs of labor and materials go up. So dealers must pay higher costs for their merchandise.

Therefore, they must cut their profit margins, so that the cost to the consumer stays put—at or near 1942 price. The OPA calls it "cost absorption."

The committee unanimously condemned this and certain other price control methods, asked that more goods be removed from price control and asserted that more liberal policies would encourage production of goods.

Asks Immediate Changes
In a special report, based on statistical studies, the committee declared:

"It is necessary for the OPA to make immediate plans for major policy changes that will contribute to rapid reconversion and full employment."

"During hostilities, retailers accepted cost absorption as a wartime measure with the assurance that this device would not be extended beyond a narrow list of low-priced essential items."

"Absorption is uneconomic, unsound and inequitable. It has no place in a peacetime competitive economy."

Mr. Bowles met the group in closed session. About 40 retailers' representatives attended. They included representatives of the National Retail Federation and other nationwide department, furniture and dry goods stores associations, representing thousands of store operators.

Mr. Bowles said the retailers apparently misunderstood some of the OPA's plans.

RUPTURED!

For Security and Comfort, Wear a Dobbs Truss

NO BULBS—NO BELTS—NO STRAPS

We, who are manufacturing or fitting trusses, owe the public a MORAL OBLIGATION. The reason: health is involved!

Those having hernias should be fitted with a support that will give nature a chance to improve the condition and not aggravate it.

A bulb or any egg-shaped pad placed in the opening will cause the opening to enlarge, consequently improvement is not possible.

THE DOBBS TRUSS uses a soft CONCAVE PAD (slightly cupped) which fits the curvature of the body and public bone supplying sufficient pressure to restore the muscles to their original state. This application gives nature a chance to recover.

We invite comparison. If you will come to the TRAVELERS HOTEL, FRIDAY, AUG. 21st, I will gladly show you how a CONCAVE PAD truss controls the rupture at its source. You will not be obligated for this demonstration.

'CAL COURIER'S' WORK RELATED

Rotary Hears Story Behind Servicemen's Letters

The story behind the "Cal Courier" news letter that is mailed monthly to 2,000 East Liverpool district servicemen was related to the Rotary club Tuesday noon by Mrs. Ethel Gibbons Wambaugh.

She recited stories of reunions that were staged when district men learned through letters that they were stationed in the same area and described the hundreds of souvenirs and snap-shots the anonymous correspondent has received from men stationed in all parts of the globe.

Mrs. Wambaugh pointed out the letters are regarded as a link between the serviceman and his hometown that will bring the veteran back to East Liverpool ready to resume the community life he laid aside when he donned the uniform.

Mrs. Wambaugh was introduced by Robert Boyce, program chairman. Frank Dawson, president, announced an invitation to the Steubenville Rotary club's picnic Thursday and said tickets have been placed on sale for the local club's outing Sept. 11 at the East Liverpool country club.

Mr. Dawson introduced two members on leave from the armed forces: Maj. Harold Campbell of the Third Air Force, and Lt. William Cooper of the navy.

Allocation of the funds formerly were based on the earning capacity of each farm and a farmer thus was limited to an arbitrary amount, Mr. Kruse explained.

judgment which permitted the sneak attack "was Gen. Short's confidence that Japan would not then attack Pearl Harbor." The secretary asserted that since the war plans division and other activities of the general staff were under the general direction of Gen. Marshall, the army Pearl Harbor board had been led to criticize Gen. Marshall as being responsible "for some of the shortcomings of the officers of the general staff."

The Pearl Harbor board attributed the extent of the Pearl Harbor disaster primarily to what it called failure of the commanding general of the Hawaiian department "adequately to alert his command for war" and to failure of the war department to direct him to take an adequate alert and to keep him advised on developments of the United States-Japanese peace talks then under way.

In Next Few Months

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 — The war production board has started a survey of all the major manufacturing industries to find out their peacetime products will be available in quantity.

Meanwhile, here's the picture as of today:
FILM FOR SNAPSHOTS—There should be a good deal of it by Oct. 1.

CAMERAS—A fairly good supply of simple ones by Christmas. Complicated ones later.

TYPEWRITERS—More than 120,000 expected to be produced by Jan. 1, but commercial firms have ordered them in advance.

LEATHER—The WPB has removed restrictions on use of leather in luggage, belts, and wallets. It said there's enough leather now to increase shoe production "substantially and rapidly." The OPA said rationing will end when the WPB says production is fast enough to meet the nation's needs.

LABOR DAY DRAFTEES
GET WEEK'S REPRIEVE

About 60 East Liverpool district men scheduled for induction and preinduction physical examinations on Labor Day were granted at least a week's "reprieve" today when state selective service headquarters at Columbus notified the local board its calls for the holiday will be postponed until the week of Sept. 17.

The local board, which already had notified the men to report Monday, mailed new notices to each registrant which will be received in this afternoon's mail or by Thursday at the latest.

Col. W. Goble, state draft director, told the local board the calls were postponed because selective service will observe the holiday.

OFFICER STEMS FLOW
OF BLOOD IN BOY'S CUT

Fellow-officers today credited Patrolman John Russell with preventing undue loss of blood for a youngster who suffered a severe cut on the left hand Tuesday night playing in weeds near his home when he fell on broken glass while in West Center lane.

The child, Donald Charles McNeough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McNeough, was released after treatment at City hospital.

Patrolman Russell was cruising at Florence and John sts. in West End when he received a radio summons at 8:25 p. m. to rush the boy to the hospital. He placed the child in the car and instructed the mother to hold the "pressure point" on the child's arm to stop the flow of blood. Five minutes after he first received the call the child was at the hospital.

TRUCKER DRAWS FINE
ON RECKLESS DRIVING

Charles T. Anderson, 50, of Price st. was fined $25 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for six months when he pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge today before Municipal Judge Frank E. Grosshans as the aftermath of a truck mishap Tuesday at 3 p. m. on routes 7 and 30 about a mile north of the city limits.

Anderson suffered a laceration of the left arm near the elbow when his truck collided with the rear of a parked truck, whose driver, J. L. Miller, of Akron had stopped to check his engine. To Local Man For 'Fish' Cure

W. D. Powell, fish and game manager of the United Fish and Game Clubs of Columbiana County and for the Tri-State Casting club, earned the "degree" of "doctor of piscatology" as well as the admiration and gratitude of many soldier-patients when he "cured" an ill fish and then spoke on "Care and Culture of Fish" Tuesday afternoon at Deshon Military hospital, Butler, Pa.

Mr. Powell, Mrs. J. D. Thompson, chairman of the camp and hospital council of the Red Cross chapter, and Mrs. Jack Jay and Mrs. Frank McNutt visited the hospital to turn in several articles donated recently by East Liverpool residents.

When Mr. Powell was told of the ailing fish, he immediately began to doctor it while the pet-owner watched. After the fish began swimming around again, the relieved soldiers tagged Mr. Powell with the title "doc."

During his talk he displayed a minnow bucket he designed and which he said keeps minnows alive for weeks.

CHUNGKING, Aug. 29—Associates of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek declared today he is "most optimistic about the future of China" following his first meeting with Mao Tse-tung, Chinese communist leader.

Near the Benevolent steamed the cruiser San Juan. The other hospital ships were the Solace and the Tjltjalenska, former Netherlands Indies passenger steamer now operating as a British hospital ship with Dutch officers and many Chinese in the crew.

PALESTINE CERTIFIES
2 LEVIES FOR BALLOT

Two one-mill levies were certified today to the Columbiana county election board for a vote at East Palestine in the Nov. 6 election, one providing for street maintenance and the other for upkeep of the municipal park.

The new issues, probably the last that will be certified before the deadline, bring to 17 the number of special questions and issues that will be considered by voters throughout the county in the fall election. A 65 per cent vote would be required for passage.

Meanwhile, the Simms Printing Co. of Market st., ballot contractor, furnished the election board with proofs of a number of tickets, including the East Liverpool party column and nonpartisan ballots and all questions or issues with the exception of the two filed today.

The proofs will be checked by the board and then posted in its office 24 hours before the printer is given the "go-ahead" for printing ballots. Copies also were mailed to party leaders throughout the county for checking.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29—Arthur H. Ehlers of Baltimore, new promotional director for minor league baseball, said today there was "no question that there will be plenty of baseball next year."

Thumbing through stacks of letters from league officials and would-be organizers, Ehlers reviewed the minor league situation from coast-to-coast, showing that there was a tremendous spurt in efforts to get the smaller loops back into some semblance of their pre-war status.

Some suspended leagues, such as the Texas and South Atlantic circuits, already have held meetings and are ready to go next year, while most others are planning to meet late in September or in October to get ready for 1946, he said.

These are: Texas, South Atlantic, Southeastern, Three-I, Western International, Canadian-American, Middle Atlantic, Northern, Pioneer, Western Association, Georgia-Florida, Penn State Association and Wisconsin State leagues.

The situation for suspended leagues, their classifications, and names of cities include:

Middle Atlantic, Class C—Canton, O., Charleston, W. Va., Dayton, Springfield, and Zanesville, O., and Erie, Pa. No date or meeting place set. Springfield and Zanesville were granted permission to join the Ohio State league during the war, and Erie the Pony league. Ehlers said "what will be worked out, we don't yet know."

George Starnweiss, Yankees—Led New York with three hits, scoring twice in an 8-to-7 shade over Boston.

Hal Newhouse, Tigers—Stopped St. Louis victory march with a four-hitter, 10-1, to earn his 21st decision.

Bobby Feller, Indians—Scattered eight White Sox hits in coasting to an 8-to-2 second straight triumph.

Frenchy Bordagaray, Dodgers—Doubled and singled, driving in two runs in the Brooks' 7-to-1 romp over the Phils.

Peanuts Lowrey, Cubs—Belted a three-run homer in the fourth frame to assure Chicago of a 6-to-3 nod over the Pirates.

Eddie Miller, Reds—Downed St. Louis, 3-2, with a round tripper in the eighth inning.

SHOWDOWN IN AA FLAG RACE MAY COME SOON

By The Associated Press.
There may be a showdown in the American Association pennant race in the next three days.

The Milwaukee Brewers, now in first place and the defending champions, open a three-day series against Minneapolis today. The Brewers have been charging along in dangerous fashion of late, and are in a spot to upset the Brews' pennant hopes.

Meanwhile, second place Indianapolis, now four games behind Milwaukee, takes on last-place Columbus, a team bereft of stars that have been snatched off by the majors in recent weeks to leave Manager Charlie Root, the ex-Cub mound hero, wondering just where he'll get his next base hit.

Only one game was played in the league last night as the clubs took a day off to move. Minneapolis won a wild free hitting contest from St. Paul in a postponed game between the cross-river rivals, 15-10.

12 Softball Teams Vie

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29—Commissioner Charles A. Foster reported today 12 teams have entered the three-day regional softball tournament which opens Saturday at Lakewood Elks field. Included are the Columbus Old Reliable independents in the men's division and the Dayton Moraine Products in the girls competition. Winners will compete in the world tourney which opens Sept. 14 at the same field.

Season Tickets For Potter Grid Games To Go On Sale

SEASON tickets, something that has been among "the missing" from the East Liverpool High school football agenda for years, will be sold for the 1945 season, Principal Ralph Betts said Tuesday night following a meeting of the athletic board.

Pasteboards for the seven-game home schedule will be sold for $5.18 and will be placed on sale next Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 4 p. m. at Brian's clothing store on West Fifth st., and will be closed Friday, Sept. 7 at 5 p. m.

Mr. Betts explained that these tickets will not be "laid aside" by request. No sale on the ducaus will take place until next Tuesday at 4 o'clock, and fans who heretofore have had tickets "laid aside" from week-to-week must purchase them between next Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

Some of the season tickets, however, the principal said, will be taken by the board to be distributed to members of the football squad for their parents, a custom of the past.

Other reserved tickets, those for the games at home, will go on sale each Monday at 4 p. m. at Brian's and will remain on sale until Friday at 5 p. m. And none of these can be "laid aside," he pointed out. These reserved seat tickets will sell at the price set last season of 74 cents. General admission tickets, which heretofore have been sold only at the gate at Patterson field, also will be placed for advance sale at Brian's and will sell at the price also set last season of 55 cents. The "no-layaway" plan also will exist there, Mr. Betts said.

Parking tickets, at 15 cents, also will be sold in advance at Brian's. Prices for high school student tickets will remain at 25 cents and will be sold through the week of each game at the high school building as will grade school tickets. In the grades the price will be 12 cents for pupils over 12 years, and for those under nine years the price will be nine cents, the same as last year.

SPORTS ROUNDUP
By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29—Distance may lend enchantment—but not to a guy who has to ride a great distance in a bus between night baseball games. That's the theory being followed by Arthur Ehlers, newly-appointed minor league promotion director. As president of one of the "bus leagues"—the Interstate—Ehlers has a good idea of the importance of distance and he hopes to bring about a number of realignments when he gets around to reviving disbanded leagues and starting new ones.

Man working—no danger. Right now Ehlers' task is to get the suspended circuits going again. But the war-born Ohio State loop can't operate without Zanesville and Springfield, which belong to the Middle Atlantic, and a Class "D" league can't pay much for territory.

Looking way ahead. Once things are started again in all sections, Ehlers had some rather ambitious promotional plans. But he wants to work slowly to be sure that there are enough players to go around and that leagues don't spring up just to die down again. He already has sounded out the "farm" directors of various major and minor clubs about a meeting at which they'll outline their needs and eventually he hopes to provide aid and incidental intelligence for small club business managers to help them operate their clubs successfully.

Headline headlines. No explanation needed for this line by Ben Greenstein of the Wilmington, Del., Journal-Every Evening: "As Feller throws so goes the pennant in the American league."

Reds Nip Cards As Tigers Cool Off The Brownies

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

St. Louis' dreams of another Sportsman's park world series faded today with the winning streak of the Cardinals and Browns broken while the Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers resumed their winning ways.

Failure of Billy Southworth's Red Birds to beat the second division clubs is haunting the second place defending world champs.

Weak Clubs Haunt Cards
Whitley Charley Grimm's Chicago powerhouse has been able to flatten Cincinnati 17 out of 18 and drub the Phillies 15 out of 19. St. Louis has been held to an even break in 16 starts against the Reds and has just eked out the last-place Phils 10 times in 18 contests.

After six straight wins the champs were halted by Cincinnati last night, 3-2, by the slender margin of Eddie Miller's eighth inning home run off Relfefer Red Barrett.

Southworth gambled on Rookie Glen Gardner from Rochester to beat Cincinnati, perhaps hoping to conserve talent for the week-end series with Chicago.

Cubs Troupe Pirates, 6-3
Grimm celebrated his 46th birthday in happy fashion by trimming Pittsburgh, 6-3, with the help of Peanuts Lowrey's three-run homer off Fritz Ostermueller. Hank Borowy, the fellow who doesn't win in late summer according to Larry McPhail, registered his fifth victory against two losses for the Cubs. By the combination of events Chicago's lead was stretched to 3½ games.

Brooklyn took a firmer grasp on third place by a 7-to-1 romp over the Phils.

The New York Giants and Boston were not scheduled.

Hal Newhouse cooled off the Brownies in the American league feature, 10-1, allowing only four hits on his way to his 21st victory. The Browns had won five in a row and nine of their last 11 before the Tigers came to town.

Feller Wins Second
Bobby Feller's second start for Cleveland lacked some of the dash of his first appearance but the fireball merchant had little trouble handcuffing Chicago, 8-2. The ex-sailor walked seven and struck out six White Sox.

The New York Yankees continued to come on, running their new string to five by whipping Boston, 8-7.

Washington stuck on the tail light of the Tigers, 1½ lengths behind, on a 6-to-5 edge over Philadelphia.

COMPETITIVE SPIRIT MAKES NELSON 'TICK'

By The Associated Press.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 29—What makes the mechanical man of golf tick?

Put the questions to one of the tourney-tough boys who follow the gold dust trail and you get an interesting answer.

Toney Penna, Dayton, O.—"Nelson is the world's greatest golfer because he has the world's greatest competitive spirit. He's a very sweet fellow in the locker room, but on the course he would beat his grandmother by 20 strokes if he could."

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 29—Georgia navy pre-flight has canceled its six-game football schedule. Comdr. W. M. "Matty" Bell, USNR, athletic director, said yesterday that an anticipated reduction in the number of trainees would make it "impossible to field a team."

Locals Seek Winning Trail After Losing 6 Of Last 7;
Ron Delaney Likely To Start in Box For Locals

East Liverpool's Red Sox, gunning for their 12th win of the season, but beaten in six of their last seven games, stack up against a strong Burgettstown, Pa., nine today at 5:30 p. m. at Patterson field. Having drawn capacity crowds to the West End field for the last three engagements, the Sox are expected to play before another overflow throng in today's twilight affair, which is scheduled to start a half an hour earlier than the usual 6 o'clock bell.

The Keystone Staters, annually a fast club, again are traveling at a fast clip and probably will give the Sox all they can handle.

Although no definite choice has been made for a Liverpool mound starter, Co-Managers Guy Digman and Clarence Huffman likely will start Ron Delaney who has been at his best in twirling for the local all-stars.

The following players are asked to report at the field at 4:30 p. m. Del Manning, Pete Franzeck, Stan Franzeck, Pete Pollock, Johnny Anderson, Kenny Barnett, Johnny Unger, Willis Standley, Wayne Harpold, Fred Burton, Tony Stanish, Don Railing, Clark Huffman and Delaney.

TRIO OF YOUNG STARS SPARKLE IN NET MEET

By The Associated Press.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 29—Youth had its annual fling in the opening round of the National tennis championships yesterday and the opinion of some qualified experts, two or three of the youngsters may stick around after today to contend with such established stars as Sgt. Frankie Parker, Bill Talbert and Pancho Segura.

The trio of youngsters includes Air Cadet Bob Falkenberg of Hollywood, Calif., sixth in the 1944 national rankings and eighth seeded player of the 1945 championships; Herbert Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., successor to Falkenberg as national junior champion, and Herbert Buddy Behrens of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., winner of the boys' championship for the past two years.

All three came through their opening matches in fine style and face comparatively easy opposition today.

Champion Sammy Snead were deadlocked at an even par were deadlocked at the second total of 144 today as the second half of the $10,000 War Bond tournament on the Oakmont Country club golf course got under way.

Nelson scored a subpar 70 on the afternoon round yesterday to even the 72-hole match. Snead had taken a one stroke lead with 73, one over par, in the earlier round, but later faltered.

Pfc. Samuel J. Crawford, 1912 Michigan ave., was navigator on one of the strangest missions an American Liberator bomber ever flew. It was revealed recently.

Lt. Alexander put his plane over a Nazi slave labor camp one night in mid-April so a new kind of bomb could be released—a parachute bomb carrying live pigeons.

Allied leaders hoped imprisoned laborers would heed the instructions and requests, printed in several languages, and fastened to containers on the birds' legs, for information on Nazi installations, troop strength and deployment.

It was never disclosed officially how many birds returned, but Associated Press Correspondent Romney Wheeler said he learned a number returned to England with valuable information.

Have A Cold? Try This For Speedy Cure

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH Halsey's Third fleet, off Japan—a navy pharmacist, aboard this big attack transport, awaiting toward a landing on the land of the Rising Sun, has solved the problem of how to cure a common head cold—but has little faith that mankind ever will adopt his remedy.

I told the pharmacist's mate, Lee Chase of Edmeston, N. Y., that I had picked up "the Pacific snuffles" and he said:

"I know the only way to cure it. You have to do four things: Quit drinking, quit smoking, quit thinking about women and go to bed at dark every night."

"But you'll never cure it. I can't get people to do all four of those things. I've had a cold out here for a year myself."

Despite his pessimistic outlook on human frailty, Chase looked tan and fit from his long siege with the Pacific sun. He spoke of two brothers in the service.

"My brother is overseas, too," he grinned. "He is in Kentucky."

After a separation of three years, three brothers, Pfc. Chalmers Blatch, husband of Mrs. Mary Blatch, 215 West Sixth st.; Sgt. Norman Blatch, husband of Mrs. Gazella Blatch of Ellwood City, Pa.; and Pfc. Harold Blatch of New Gallie, Pa., staged a reunion at the West Sixth st. home last week.

Pfc. Chalmers Blatch and Sgt. Blatch have concluded 30-day furloughs and the third brother, who is stationed at Geiger field, Wash., was home for 15 days. Sgt. Blatch reported to the Indian town Gap (Pa.) military reservation and Chalmers Blatch reported to Camp Atterbury, Ind. He and Sgt. Blatch served in Europe.

Robert E. Hoffman, 1306 Perry ave., has been graduated from the B-29 flight engineer course at Hondo (Tex.) army air field and has been commissioned a second lieutenant.

A rest camp in the South Pacific recently was the scene of a reunion between Marine Pfc. William H. Mills Jr. and his brother, Merchant Marine Seaman John E. Mills, sons of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mills of Sunnyside ave. The brothers had not seen each other for three years. Pvt. Mills has been hospitalized for injuries caused by a concussion blast on Okinawa. A member of the Sixth division, he has been overseas more than two years. His brother has been in the Pacific since May.

Corp. Paul E. Taylor, 265 East Martin st., East Palestine, arrived Monday at the reception station at the Indian town Gap (Pa.) military reservation for reassignment. He will be given a furlough home.

Sgt. Leo Palmer Jr., husband of Mrs. Helen Palmer and son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Palmer of Smiths Ferry, is recuperating at Walter Reed General hospital in Washington from an attack of tropical fever. He returned to the States in July after 25 months in the Pacific. He has two sons, Michael and James.

Tech. Sgt. Donald Clements, son of Mrs. J. Hayes Clements of Center st., Newville, received a point discharge at Ft. Devens, Mass., early this month. Entering the service in June, 1940, Sgt. Clements served overseas with the medical corps for 21 months, including 15 months in the Marshall Islands and the remainder on Hawaii and Saipan. He has a campaign star for the Mandated Islands fight. Mr. Clements and wife, Mrs. Marie J. Clements, and sons, Donald Jr. and Edward, of Hstol, R. I., are visiting his mother.

Promotions
John R. Higgins, brother of Mrs. Oke Jackson of Calcutta, to staff sergeant in the Philippines.

New Assignments
Pvt. Thomas W. Wright, husband of Mrs. Caroline Wright of Hookstown, to Okinawa.
Pfc. Deryl "Jake" Parson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Parson of Hammondsville, to Camp Bowie, Tex.

Furloughs
First Lt. Robert C. Morris and wife of Harrison, Ark., have concluded a visit with his brother, Donald Morris, and wife of Beech st., Wellsville. Lt. Morris has just returned from the Pacific theater where he has been stationed for three of his five years in service. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Morris and Lt. and Mrs. Morris spent Sunday with another brother, Kenneth Morris, of Pittsburgh.

Sgt. Robert W. Vess has concluded a 21-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vess, 2238 St. Clair ave., and reported to Lake Charles, La., to serve as an instructor in gunnery.

Pvt. Walter Fitzsimmons has concluded an 11-day delay-en route with his wife, Mrs. Vivian Fitzsimmons, of New Waterford, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fitzsimmons, of Rogers. He will report to Ft. Riley, Kas.

Pfc. Calvin Gillespie is spending a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Gillespie, of Hookstown, after serving two years in Europe. He will report to a camp in Texas.

Pfc. Gordon Campbell has reported to the Indian town Gap (Pa.) military reservation after a 30-day furlough with his wife, Betty Campbell, and his mother, Mrs. Walter Campbell, of Hookstown. He has been in the army 33 months, including 18 months in the European theater. He has four battle stars on his theater ribbon.

Proposed New Building Also
Would Be Built To Avert
Tragedy From Fire

(This is another in a series of stories on the Ohio penitentiary, its history and its future.)

By REED D. SMITH
Associated Press Staff Writer

COLUMBUS, Aug. 29 — Ohio's proposed new $5,000,000 penitentiary would be constructed to preclude disasters such as the 1930 fire which killed 32 inmates, Welfare Director Frazier Reams said today.

Described as the worst holocaust to hit the century-old prison, the fire burned or suffocated the prisoners in their four-man cells in a block which was undergoing construction.

Two convicts later were convicted of setting the blaze. One committed suicide and the other is serving a life sentence.

Investigation disclosed the fire had been fanned to start in carpentry scraps while inmates were at dinner. The perpetrators had planned to escape when the city fire department was called.

Somewhat the fire didn't break out until after the men had been returned to their cells and locked in. Guards either refused to unlock the cells or couldn't find the keys in the confusion.

Few Fugitives Remain Free
A number of escape plots have been successful, although few fugitives remained free.

One of the most daring breaks occurred when 13 prisoners forced their way out of the front gate Nov. 8, 1926.

One guard was stabbed nine times and another struck over the head. Three prisoners were shot, two were recaptured within three hours and a third two days later.

The others were rounded up in a few days, the last being apprehended a week later at nearby Grove City.

Three inmates escaped from the prison hospital March 27, 1927, but two were caught the next day and the third was recaptured in Springfield early the next month.

A ladder was used by two men who fled the power plant April 13, 1927. They escaped over the 20-foot wall. One was returned two months later and the other jailed in Iowa to serve a sentence there.

Three others improvised a ladder and went over the wall May 29, 1934. All were taken a few days later by a posse near Lancaster.

Cut Way Through Roof
Three prisoners succeeding in cutting their way through the roof of an "escape-proof" cell Nov. 4, 1929, but they also were recaptured.

During the late 1890's, a convict got out by promising to pay a delivery boy $200 to nail him inside a box and drive him outside in his wagon. More recently another inmate concealed himself inside a garbage can to get out.

During the building of a new cell house in 1877, three men crawled single file through a sewer and fled after managing to hammer through bars near the line's outlet.

The latest break occurred Sunday morning, July 29. Two men

GREAT MISSOURI ATTACKED TWICE BY SUICIDE JAPS

One Kamikaze Ship Started
Fire On Deck, But Vessel
Kept Right On Going

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 — The navy disclosed Tuesday that the mighty battleship Missouri, scene of the forthcoming surrender ceremony in Tokyo bay, had at least two narrow escapes from Japanese suicide planes.

On April 11, as the 45,000-ton dreadnought was helping support the Okinawa campaign, she was attacked by a low-flying kamikaze. A burst from the ship threw the plane off balance and it crashed against the starboard side.

Gasoline and debris were thrown over the main deck. Fire broke out, but was extinguished quickly.

Never Altered Course
The big ship never so much as altered her course and continued on her assigned duty.

Five days later she again was subjected to attempted suicide crashes, but none was successful.

Since her initial action when she escorted carriers of Adm. Marc Mitscher's Task Force 58 in the first mass air strikes against Japan Feb. 16 and 17, the Missouri followed the tide of battle to the final Japanese surrender.

She furnished close support to carriers operating against two Jima in the early days of that campaign and it was on the evening of Feb. 19, off Iwo Jima, that the Missouri first opened fire on the enemy.

Her radar picked up an approaching enemy plane and long before the plane was in range the ship's guns were on the target.

When the plane came into range, the guns opened up and the crew saw their first enemy hit the water.

Opened Up Against Okinawa
Following the Iwo Jima operation, the Missouri returned with carriers for more strikes against Tokyo.

On March 24, the Missouri, along with other battleships, opened up the first bombardment of Okinawa. Her big 16-inch guns knocked out eight coastal defense installations, destroyed several control towers, exploded an ammunition dump and destroyed and damaged several large buildings.

The $100,000,000 battleship was built by the New York navy yard and commissioned June 11, 1944, nine months ahead of schedule. President Truman, then senator from Missouri, made the principal address at the ship's launching.

JOB AND JOBLESS BILLS SIFTED BY CONGRESS UNITS

Senate Group Will Launch Unemployment Action Hearings Today

By The Associated Press.
Jobs and jobless pay bills are under study by congressional committees today.

The unemployment bill would increase the help states give their jobless citizens. If the bill is passed, the federal government will shell out enough money to allow each state to pay up to $25 a week for 26 weeks.

Sen. George (D) of Georgia said he favors the principle of the bill, though not every word of it. He's chairman of the senate committee that begins hearings on the proposal today. A house committee will start hearings tomorrow.

The so-called "full employment bill" would do this: Every year the government would study industry's employment prospects and make recommendations for improving them. If this still seemed insufficient, the government could send a bill to congress at federal expense. However, the pending bill by itself involves no federal spending.

Wagner Sees 36-Hour Week
Chairman Wagner (D) of New York of the senate group that is hearing testimony on the proposal said today he thinks a further cut in the work week, perhaps to 36 hours, is "probably necessary to assure full employment in the years ahead."

Higher wages and shorter hours were urged by labor leaders John L. Lewis and William L. Green Tuesday.

They said this would give assurance that job opportunities would keep pace with production techniques.

They joined Secretary of Commerce Wallace in endorsing the Rapid-Recovery Treatment

Hernia Patients Get Up Day After Operation

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
CHICAGO, Aug. 29—A rapid-recovery treatment after surgery has been studied at the University of Illinois college of medicine, utilizing liver function tests and other chemical and physical data to determine rate of convalescence.

Hernia patients, who normally are not allowed out of bed for 10 days, are getting up the day after their operations. They walk all around the hospital wards in less than six days.

They are ready to go home on their sixth postoperative day, but are usually kept longer for study. One recent patient was out and drove his car six days after his operation.

Exercise, food and certain supplements, both before and after the operation, make the difference in recovery time.

The treatment was tried first on hernia patients because that operation is standardized. If the treatment works well at one place, it probably can be repeated generally.

so-called full employment legislation before the senate banking subcommittee.

Opposition was sounded, however, by Ira Mosher, president of the National Association of Manufacturers. He called the legislation "unworkable." It was opposed also by other business spokesmen.

Mr. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said the problem of providing employment opportunities in coming years of rapid scientific advance inevitably is associated with the number of hours of work.

First Step, Green Says

He uttered an amendment to the Wagner-Murray bill that would make it a specific government responsibility to adopt policies from time to time "looking to the adjustment and shortening of the hours of labor."

Mr. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, likewise stressed increasing productivity of workers and improved industrial techniques.

Because of these factors and the growing population, he said, American industry will have to provide about 1,000,000 new jobs annually to obtain full employment.

"We will have to shorten the work week to create some of these new jobs," he said. He also said that higher wages would be essential to give workers the buying power to sustain mass production.

Although endorsing the legislation, Mr. Green said its enactment would constitute only "the initial responsibility of congress" and would have to be supplemented by other legislation to provide a favorable "national economic environment."

Among supplemental measures he mentioned were increased unemployment compensation, higher minimum wages, housing, rising farm living standards, federal aid for schools, public works and conservation of resources.

Mr. Lewis, shaking hands with Mr. Green as he followed him to the witness chair, said he approved the bill in principle but reserved the right to dissent later.

The next step is to extend the treatment gradually to other types of surgical operations. Gall bladder patients may be the next as that, too, is a standardized surgical procedure.

The new treatment was developed as part of a war medicine project in the department of internal medicine and surgery by Drs. Robert Keeton, W. H. Cole, H. H. Mitchell, N. O. Calloway and M. N. Glickman.

In the beginning of this project, a study was made of the damage done to the body by a surgical operation and by the anesthetic.

For example, it was found the action of the liver is impaired by a general anesthetic, the sort which renders a person unconscious. Livers were affected little by local anesthetics. Food, exercise and drugs effects also were studied.

Before operation, the hernia patients are given some mild exercises for a few days. They are also well fed.

The first day after the operation, when most patients are either unable to eat at all, or only little, they receive food by one or more of several detours.

One way is through a tube directly into the stomach. Others are fed by a hollow needle into a vein. This latter gives them either glucose, or amino acids, which are the building stones of protein foods. Transfusions are also possible.

While still in bed these patients begin mild exercises. They push weights upward with their arms. After the second day they begin to walk upstairs. They proceed leisurely, being careful never to make a sudden move or effort.

No bad effects have been found. Physical and physiological tests have verified the improvement. The feeding appears to be very important. Checks have shown that starvation, even for a day, may be most detrimental.

Along with food and exercise, various drugs are being tried. Some of these have been found helpful in speeding recovery, but that section of the treatment has not yet been published.

ment over Ballale airdrome in the Solomon Islands Sept. 16, 1942. He destroyed four more over Rabaul Dec. 23, 1943, and tied the record of 26 established by Marine Maj. Joe Foss and army Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker.

His comrades, remembering his promise to "stay alive" if ever downed and captured, never had relinquished hope he would be found safe although at the time they had searched fruitfully for him.

At the time of his disappearance he was attacked by 12 Japanese planes, said his wingman.

Before joining the Black Sheep squadron, Boyington was a member of the famous Flying Tigers, American volunteer group in China. He bagged six bombers while with this group.

Young Daughter 'Knew Daddy Was Alive'

By The Associated Press.
SEATTLE, Aug. 29—The surprise of their young lives awaited Janet Sue and Gregory Boyington Jr. today when they clambered from their beds at their grandma's farm near Brewster, Wash., but their baby sister, Gloria, said she knew all the time that her daddy, Maj. Gregory Boyington, was alive.

Entirely unimpressed when told Tuesday night that the major was believed alive in Tokyo, she said gravely:

"I know it. I just said my prayers for him."

Gloria is 5, Janet Sue 7 and Gregory Jr., whose nickname is Bob, is 10. The major's mother, saying she was "overcome with happiness" when given the news last night, said the older children were asleep and she would wait until morning to tell them.

But Gloria lives in Seattle with her aunt, Mrs. A. G. Wickstrom. When Maj. Boyington, after separating from his first wife, obtained custody of the children, he left the youngest with his wife's sister and the two others with his mother.

"We never have given up in our hearts," said Mrs. Wickstrom when told that Maj. Boyington was reported alive.

FOOD HANDLERS' HEALTH PERMITS WILL BE REVIVED

Board To Start Examination Next Tuesday; Lack Of Garbage Covers Hit

Reviving a city ordinance that was allowed to rest during the war and its accompanying shortage of help, the city health board Tuesday night ordered the measure enforced again and set the start of a two-month period of examination for food handlers next Saturday.

Dr. Charles A. Gerace, city health commissioner, said the grocery men and butchers will be exempted, but all persons—waiters or waitresses, cooks, and other employees of establishments serving foods—will be required to submit to the examination.

By Own Physician

Food handlers will be examined by their personal physicians, after which they will present the report to the health board offices in the City building, which will issue the permit for a fee of 50 cents. The permits must be renewed in six months.

To facilitate the task, the board has set aside the period of Sept. 1-15 for issuing permits for handlers in places with names starting with the initials between A to F; G to L, from Sept. 15-Oct. 1; M to R, Oct. 1-15, and S to Z, Oct. 15-31.

The board last night also took action again on complaints that garbage is being scattered on the streets because the city collection trucks do not have tarpaulins to contain the loads.

The board sometime ago notified Safety-Service Director Vincent J. McGeehan of the condition, but no action has been taken, according to health officials, who said city authorities will be warned again of the violation.

The board also will send a complaint to Ed Dopler, city incinerator superintendent and in charge of the garbage trucks.

The board prepared to issue a warning to Mrs. Lena Breakstone, operator of the Sylvan hotel on East Second, to abate an insanitary condition, or efforts will be made to padlock the four-story building from further use.

Several families and guests occupy the combination hotel and apartment quarters, and the health board was told that the place in its present condition is a health menace.

Sanitary Inspector Septimus Cook submitted a report of 126 inspections made the past month, including 27 in restaurants, 38 in lunchrooms and cafes, 26 grocery stores and meat markets, 3 city dumps, 2 dairy plants, 8 alleys, 3 basements, 2 confectioneries, 6 bakeries, 3 sewers and one club.

He said he also answered 69 complaints and collected eight milk and two water samples during the period.

Mrs. Jeanette Carpenter, city health nurse, reported that 119 visits were made to the venereal clinic, one new patient was admitted and five trips were made to the homes of patients.

Maternity Cases
The maternity service admitted seven new patients, and made 12 visits, and in the tuberculosis clinic eight new patients were admitted and 21 visits made.

Births totaled 105 during the period, according to the report of the registrar of vital statistics. Mrs. Ruth Cramer, who said 44 were born to East Liverpool parents, 23, Wellsville; 9, Midland; 13, Chester; 2, Newell; 3, Industry; 4, New Cumberland; 2, Hooks.

town; 2, Hammondsville, and one each Ironside, Beaver and Beaver Falls. Of the births, 56 were males. There were 33 deaths during the period, with 12 adult females and 19 males; seven children and four stillbirths.

MAYOR ENCOURAGED ON RIVER ROAD REPAIR

East Liverpool has a good chance of receiving state funds for repair of the River road, Mayor Arnold W. Devon and Safety-Service Director Vincent J. McGeehan learned Tuesday in Columbus when they filed plans and estimates with state officials.

Although the legislature allocated $500,000 to repair flood damage for municipalities bordering on the Ohio river, only five others had sought a share of the fund up to yesterday and the deadline for the requests is Saturday, the two learned.

State officials told Mayor Devon and Director McGeehan the five others submitted would "not nearly use" the $500,000 allocation, which left a strong possibility the local request will be granted.

The local heads conferred with Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Perry Ford, state highway director, and D. O. Deffenbacher, state finance director. The emergency state board of control will meet Oct. 12 to act on the requests.

The board, comprised of the governor, auditor and finance director, was set up by the legislature to administer the fund.

ALL JOBLESS AID MAY BE AIRED AT SPECIAL SESSION

Attorney General Declares Lausche Can't Restrict Legislatures' Study

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, Aug. 29—The Ohio legislature has the power to consider all aspects of unemployment insurance at a special session Sept. 5, called to make effective immediately the increased unemployment benefits voted in its regular session.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, in calling the special session, specified Tuesday the legislature should consider only the question of making available the larger benefits, but Atty. Gen. Hugh S. Jenkins held the lawmakers could not be so restricted.

Labor leaders, who want the increase made retroactive and a definition of "suitable work" in the unemployment compensation code, were encouraged by the attorney general's opinion.

At Chillicothe, Paul M. Herbert of Columbus, a member of the Ohio postwar program commission, declared the special session of the legislature could have been avoided if Gov. Lausche had not "played his peculiar brand of politics" during the regular session.

Mr. Herbert said the governor should have urged the legislature last June to make the benefits bill an emergency measure. He said the legislature was prepared for delivery before the Ross County Republican Women's club last night, the commission on Jan. 11 gave the governor a written report predicting the unemployment crisis now facing the state.

"However," he declared, "there being no leadership from the governor's office, the emergency session was omitted. It is reasonable to assume the governor was playing his peculiar brand of politics and did not want to recognize the foresight and vision of his predecessor, Gov. Bricker."
